

CONTENTS—VOLUME XX, PART II.

PAPERS.		PAGE
IX.—The Leven Valley, Dumbartonshire. By M. Macgregor, M.A., D.Sc.		121
X.—On the Relationship of the Green Conglomerate to the Margie Grits in the North Esk, near Edzell; and on the probable age of the Margie Limestone. By J. Pringle, D.Sc.		136
XI.—The Upper Carboniferous Rocks of Arran. By D. Leitch, D.Sc., F.G.S.		141
XII.—Notice of John Smith. By M. Macgregor, M.A., D.Sc.		155
XIII.—The Triassic Rocks of the Annan Basin, Dumfriesshire. By B. Hilton Barrett, M.A., B.Sc., F.G.S.		161
XIV.—The Contact between the Granites of North Arran. By W. R. Flett, B.Sc.		180
XV.—A Note on the Base of the Lias near Broadford, Skye. By A. E. Trueman, D.Sc.		205
XVI.— Naiadites from the Lower Carboniferous of Scotland: a Variation Study. By D. Leitch, D.Sc., F.G.S.		208
XVII.—The Stratigraphical Order of the Dalradian Schists near the Highland Border in Angus and Kincardine. By J. G. C. Anderson, M.A., Ph.D.		223
XVIII.—Note on Fused Spent Shale from a Retort at Pumpherston, Midlothian. By J. Phemister, M.A., D.Sc.		238